

It's hard to believe it's the last week of this half of term already! The children have settled and adapted so well to full-time school but we're sure they will all be glad of a rest next week.

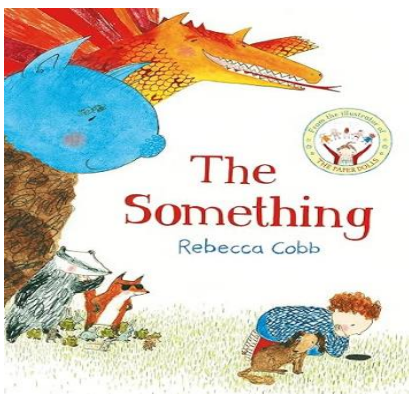

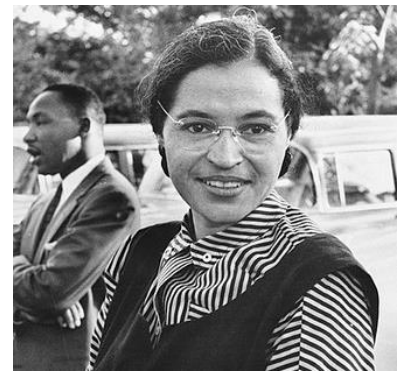

Thank you for all your support this half-term. It has been wonderful getting to know you all and your children.

This Week's Theme

This week we will be reading the book called The Something by Rebecca Cobb. When a little boy's ball disappears down a mysterious hole in the garden he can't stop thinking about what could be down the hole; a little mouse house? a lair for a hungry troll? or maybe a dragon's den? We will use the book to inspire the children's imaginations to think of other things that may be down the hole and to start to write sentences with their own ideas.

Black History Month

As part of Black History Month each class in the school is learning about a person from history who has made a significant impact on society. In reception, we will be learning about Rosa Parks and talk about her bravery. We will be exploring what it means to be brave and how we can act when things are un-fair.

Phonics

This week we will be learning the sounds h,b,f and l.

We will be focusing on reading 3 and 4 letter words using these letters.

Please see overleaf for some words to practice.
